Thread: ICE Agent Injured by Renee Good

DramaKing - January 15, 2026, 10:19 am

To those people claiming that Jonathan Ross easily stepped out of the way of the way of the SUV before putting three in Renee Good's head, he didn't. DHS has reported that the agent was treated for internal bleeding. Even if the woman was turning away, she obviously hit him and caused him to view her as a deadly threat.

Sounds like a pussy. I drive my car faster towards the car wash people at the end of the tunnel, and I don't call a minor leg bruise "internal bleeding" like a bitchboi. Just saying.

I'd love to see footage where he gets injured because the only footage I saw was a slight graze, and he walks away perfectly fine, all while his team prevents medical aid for up to 15 minutes.

all in all, a total bitch.

The only positive to come out of this is that if they do Jan 6 again when they lose in 2028, we're gonna shoot all the fucking insurrectionist terrorists who don't follow lawful orders to get the fuck out of the Capitol.

I think thousands of people invading a gov building will be easy justification. It's interesting how MAGA thinks Ashli Bobbit and J6ers were heros but that Renee is a terrorist. It is possibly the best demonstration of retardation & what the world knows is true: this cult is spineless, and made up of little to no values or morals.

total cunts, all of em lol

but anyways, back on topic. I love how DHS Ice Barbie Noems is the authority on justified shootings, but she shot her 14 month old dog because it ruined her pheasant hunt by being too distracting, and then she shot her goat because it smelled bad right after too.

America First isn't what you think it is, considering Trumpers are the least American creatures in the country right now.

America First = States rights, Constitution, 1A, 2A, don't tread on me.

Things your cult has forgotten now that they are in power.

What happened to the MAGA that was all about limited government? Limiting the fed for state's rights? No, don't recall?

What happened to the MAGA that cried about how Biden or Kamala would take our guns, limit our freedoms, and deploy military on US citizens?

What happened to the MAGA that said they wanted to limit foreign wars and focus on USA?

Y'all are some of the dumbest motherfuckers I have ever experienced.

By the way, Trump deported around 600K in his first year.

Biden deported around 685k in his last year.

Let that sink in, y'all are fucked by a narrative that has you believing that Biden let them all in and Trump is getting them all out. Unfortunately Trump is incompetent and even with ICE out in full, he can't deport as much as Biden was able to.

It does go both ways. Just like Trumpers don't know how many people Biden deported, I'm sure many democrats don't know how many drones Obama sent on bombing sprees.

But yeah, check stats, gg. Trump has gone against all of his campaign promises except for a few, and the ones he did follow through on, he has mostly botched. Project 2025 is around 50% complete though, so there's that. It was labeled as a democrat hoax that would never happen until it did, and now it's celebrated as if it was always wanted.

Amoebas have more of a backbone than Trumpers do. Nice groceries & gas prices, so nice. Doesn't affect me so I don't care, but boy oh boy, some of you guys celebrate dog shit as a birthday cake surprise on the daily.

Okay, fair enough, I am too. I fully believe in our Constitution, laws, checks & balances, state's rights, due process, and Democracy. For some reason this makes people think I'm a liberal Marxist democrat because I don't put up with bullshit, but I lean towards the right on some issues, and left on others, and center on some.

If you aren't pro Trump, that's great to hear because I do not think he is a benefit to the country, even to his most diehard supporters. I think he negatively affects the country and is leading to disadvantaged people becoming more disadvantaged, but his policies affect red states more because they don't pushback on detrimental plans.

I guess my only question is what part of what's going on makes you happy? Which part of America has been improved? Is it the manufacturing jobs? The grocery prices? The average salary? International security and respect? Education? Healthcare? Jobs?

Unfortunately the problem with today's times is we have millions of people cheering for America First, led by a party that is reducing the number of jobs, spiking grocery prices, stagnating on salary, losing allies, defunding education, stalled on healthcare, and actively working in a way that worsens all of these.

I'm all for America first, but we'll need midterms and then 2028 elections to have any chance at it. Until then I guess we can settle for America 3rd or 2nd.

Back on topic though... What part of Renee Good's death is "America first"?

How does that in any way actually help the country? Does it improve any of the campaign goals? No, it actually has led to a lot of doubt in ICE's presence and our gov's ability to investigate in a bipartisan, fair, American way.

If you want America First, look at events where people are protesting and both cops & protesters do not get violent. That's America First.

Regardless of whether people side with Renee or Jonathan Ross, this event is most certainly not 'America First'. If you are on the side of ICE rounding people up, it doesn't help your cause. If you are on the side of peaceful protesting, it doesn't help your cause.

Across the board, the Renee/Jonathan incident damages both sides' cases because it jeopardizes ICE's ability to operate, and it jeopardizes the right to peaceful protest.

Nobody wins, but of course... You celebrate it as America First. This is why I pivoted to asking about the state of the nation, wondering what other negative stats or events you might think is making America great, because it ain't this for either side of the equation.

Pretty terrible comparison made in bad faith.

You are comparing a global pandemic in which only retards disagreed to a political movement that doesn't have anywhere close to the same level of risk to justify it, but with a lot more violations.

But it's a great comparison also because it shows that when it comes to health, they don't give a fuck, but for politics, they'll bend over backwards and figuratively take it in the ass on a nationwide level for dear leader fuhrer.

It's also a great comparison of snowflake kidfuckers (or pedophile supporters at best) crying their little whiny eyes out about masks, and now they love masks.

There's this great study going around of video footage where there's a phenomenon of ICE checking their mask before engaging a suspect. It's a psychological indicator that they understand they should hide their face, out of guilt essentially or fear of future, legal prosecution.

Anyways yeah, definitely not gonna compare kid fucking MAGA ICE to health-aware medical needs.

Pretty bad comparison. For another one though, we can look at how they think 1000+ people trying to prevent the election certification was peaceful, but Renee parked in the road moving 3MPH is a violent terrorist act.

Man, if it wasn't so retarded it would be comical. This shit wouldn't pass as realistic in the movies 15 years ago, but now it's commonplace, and we're expected to sit here like it's not the stupidest cult to ever walk the land.

I think you misread it.

Basically, its exposing the hypocrisy of "right wingers" who always go on about the "woke" left whilst being "woke" themselves. In the end they're two sides of the same coin. The "right wing" and "left wing" paradigm is controlled just like political parties and politicians on both sides are controlled.

But yeah, they're giving us some really great material lately.

It's going to be really interesting to see what would happen if they lose another election and then try to protest it.

Will they listen to lawful orders?

Will they block the streets and impede on federal operations?

Will they understand why they are being shot?

At this point I genuinely just don't feel bad for the Darwin award winners. We now have liberals on the internet openly advocating to attack cops and federal law enforcement then get really mad when they find out what happens for fucking around. It's like they just learned that actions have consequences for the very first time ever.

Step 1. Obey law enforcement

Step 2. You remain alive. It's not that complicated. It doesn't matter if you agree or not unless you're willing to die to try and prove your pedantic point.

Its interesting because we get to view it over and over but that officer got about half a second to decide. he decided correctly. A hunk of steel on wheels with a person who he doesn't know or what they intend to do with that car, all he knows is she won't listen to commands when asked to step out. It was justified.
