Thread: Malware Devs / Hackers Wanted \$10 BTC for 10-min Anonymous Survey

cloverblanket - January 18, 2026, 11:56 am

Hello! Posted on here before about my survey, only now I am offering $10USD in Bitcoin to the first 50 respondents. I'm Looking for people with real experience in malware development or hacking to take part in an anonymous research survey.

The survey explores attitudes toward hacking/malware, perceived impact on victims, and how participants rationalize their actions.

The survey does not ask about specific actions, targets, or illegal activities, and is hosted exclusively on Tor for added anonymity.

- ~10 minutes
- $10 USD in Bitcoin for valid responses
- Responses checked for randomness / contradictions – only real responses receive the Bitcoin
- Crypto wallet info deleted once funds are sent

I don't really understand... do you want to learn, or are you already an expert and just paying $10 for some questions?

casperr - January 18, 2026, 12:51 pm

Great survey also got the money thanks !

The site says it's for a PhD Thesis, I would take that with a big grain of salt though.

Yes, that's for sure, especially considering where this survey is?

I am a PhD student, I am trying to learn about perspectives

I have been sending the funds to those who have participated, I've been checking every night

That's ok! It's hard to trust strangers on the internet, I expect such comments

I used a custom built survey software only accessible on Tor because I didn't want participants to think I was trying to track them somehow :)

Thanks for participating! ?

Thanks to everyone who has participated so far! I'll post updates as spots fill—there are 40 paid spots remaining (out of 50), after which the survey will close.

Update: I got the money as OP advertised but I only got $8 instead of $10.

Hmm, the only thing I can think of is that there were fees on your end when accepted? If you send me a DM I can send the screenshot of the transfer I sent on the day you filled out the survey to show I sent $10 USD, I have no reason to skimp on $2.00

No you're right, you sent me $9.98 the price of BTC went down so that amount is now worth $7.98.

Oh right, makes sense. That really sucks though, I wish it wouldn't change while being sent :(

Just posting here to let those interested know that I have funds left to pay 28 more participants (out of 50 total)

Thanks to everyone who has participated already! :)

RangoWorld - February 21, 2026, 11:44 pm

I have completed the survey as honestly as I could.

UPDATE: I have received the $10 BTC. Thanks OP

Waiting to see if I get paid.

Thank you! I just downloaded the new responses so participants should receive the funds very soon!

cloverblanket - March 9, 2026, 6:04 pm

I have funds left to pay 5 more participants (out of 50 total)! Very grateful to those that have participated so far :)

Thought I should update the post once more now that I only have funds left to pay two more survey participants (from 50 total)! ? Also want to remind people that:

- ~10 minutes
- $10 USD in Bitcoin for valid responses
- Responses checked for randomness / contradictions – only real responses receive the Bitcoin
- Crypto wallet info deleted once funds are sent cloverblanket - April 27, 2026, 5:35 pm

Thanks so much to everyone who has participated in my survey! :)

I will be taking the survey down on May 1. If anyone else would still like to participate before then, I'm happy to compensate additional participants over the next few days.
