You're very welcome and almost half way there, not bad at all! Keep at it and I'm sure you'll have the award before you know it! Be sure to hop into public convo here and there to ask anyone around if they have/can QL you. Most of us will be happy to do so if we haven't already. Good luck!

HI HI. What is a QL?

QL stands for "Quick Love". If you look towards the top right corner of each post, you'll see a heart. Clicking on it will give that user a QL. It costs 10 of your bytes and is essentially a show of agreeance or support towards the post that member made. There is an award for getting 100 QLs (all from different members) and that's what Hazii is working towards.
