Thread: [\[Make \$10k monthly \] Social media automation Ai Agent](#)

Mr.ProVanzla - January 29, 2026, 9:23 am

A few months ago I made a similar post, but in this case this is a more advanced version with a lot of things I learned and improved, I'm sharing it here with you, enjoy!

You can do this completely for free using Sora AI or other ai videos generators and video editors, from online tools to DaVinci Resolve, etc. But the reason I'm using automation is that it handles most of the work automatically from finding content, to editing, to uploading and many others. This saves a ton of time and makes scaling much easier, while you can still do everything manually if you want.

How I Turned $28 into a $20K+/Month System (Music + YouTube + Affiliates)

Step 1: Build visibility (optional, but helps)

I wanted some credibility, so I got verified on X (Twitter) for $7/month. Totally optional skip it if you don't care about the blue checkmark.

Step 2: Make music the smart way

Compared to the last post where we made music only with ai now we will look at some options to improve it.

Old method (AI music): I used AI generators like Suno and Epidemic Sound. Easy and cheap $5–$10/month and you keep full distribution rights. Phonk was my genre of choice it's trending, has a strong audience, and streams well.

Distribution platforms:

Amuse

Soundrop

Routenote

Level Music

These are free upfront and put your tracks on Spotify, Apple Music, etc.

Pro tip: Don't use YouTube Content ID. Let others use your music in their videos it drives more streams and real money. Spotify pays $4–5K per 1M streams; YouTube audio pays $700–$1.5K. Let people use your music freely bigger earnings.

New & safer method: I no longer recommend AI music generators to use 100% instead try mix it with free daws and then distribute because Spotify can flag accounts for AI content. Instead, I partner with real producers (mostly phonk) and split revenue 30–50%. They get exposure, I get income, and Spotify is happy. you can find a lot of artists on x or insta etc ---> Always verify ownership. <---

Step 3: Go viral with YouTube Shorts

The strategy: Get your music and content everywhere using automation.

Steps:

Create a few free YouTube channels

Use an automation tool that finds viral content (Instagram/TikTok)

Automatically downloads, compiles, adds captions, metadata, hashtags, and uploads 7–15 clips/day

Manual method works too, but it takes hours. Automation: 5 minutes/day.

Many AI-generated Shorts go viral no matter what you upload.

What actually matters:

Key principle: Volume + consistency = reach -> streams + affiliate clicks -> $$$

Some Shorts fail, some hit millions. That's the numbers game. < This is what we need - the more you try, the more you succeed

Different niches = more algorithm chances

Inside each video:

Add the music from the producer you're promoting or your own!

Match music vibe to scene (animals, sports, memes, motivation)

if we already have a bunch of views on clips, why spend it only on music? let's use traffic for other things affiliate + instagram and meta partnership program!

Monetization beyond music - this is where it explodes

Once you get views, don't waste traffic.

Affiliate > selling

How I pick products: Match product to video content. Examples:

Animals in winter - winter gear, portable chargers, survival kits

Phonk + lifestyle - VPN subscriptions

Search like: "camping solar charger amazon affiliate" or "survival gear affiliate program"

Platforms: Amazon, Digistore24, ClickBank, Gumroad Partner, Coursera, Udemy (warez disallowed).

Courses are overrated unless they convert well.

Much better performers is:

Physical products

Survival / utility items

Seasonal products

Subscriptions etc

I'm actively improving this right now.

So what did I add or change as something new? I decided to use Instagram and the Meta monetization program which I mentioned instead of X, redirecting people from YouTube to these platforms to earn additional income instead of relying on YouTube AdSense. It looks like this:

Extra income stream: Instagram & Facebook

Instead of using only music + affiliate (new form add), I now focus on Instagram and Facebook for extra earnings.

Why?

Much bigger reach for short-form video

Easier reposting from YouTube Shorts

Facebook has monetization programs that pay surprisingly well

This is something I started 2 month ago, and it's already adding an extra income layer on top of YouTube + Spotify - affiliate.

How the traffic transfer works (YouTube -> IG -> FB)

YouTube Shorts are still the main engine.

Once a Short performs decently on YouTube:

I reuse the same Short

Reupload it to:

Instagram Reels

Facebook Reels

Same video, same music, same hook

Zero extra production cost

Important:

Upload clean versions if possible

Native uploads perform better than reposts with visible logos

Monetization on Instagram & Facebook

Instagram:

Traffic -> affiliate links (bio, pinned comments)

Brand interest once pages grow

Story swipe-ups later

Facebook (very important):

Facebook Reels monetization program

In-stream ads (once eligible)

Huge organic reach compared to Instagram

Facebook currently pushes Reels HARD.
Even low-effort content can get insane reach.

Why this is still manual (for now)?

The YouTube automation tool I use does NOT support Instagram or Facebook uploads yet.

So:

YouTube = automated

Instagram & Facebook = manual reposting

This sounds annoying, but it's actually easy:

Upload to IG

Upload to FB

Copy-paste caption + hashtags - affiliates link + add music

Takes 5–10 minutes per day.

Totally worth it. extra affiliate visits = sales + music streams!

Expand to Instagram & Facebook

Keep captions, music, and hashtags

IG = affiliate links in bio or pinned comments

FB = Reels monetization + huge organic reach

Multiple platforms = multiple paychecks. YouTube = traffic machine, Spotify = long-term passive, IG = affiliate conversions, FB = bonus cash.

Lessons learned

Consistency > perfection – Post 7–15 Shorts per day on multiple channels

Volume is key – More videos = higher chance more blows up

Diversify income streams – Music, affiliate links, physical products, platforms

Partner smartly – Real producers or AI gen sound

Automation is your friend – Save hours, scale easily.

Reality check: Most videos fail. A few explode. Those few change everything. Keep posting, test products, and let the algorithm do its job.
