Thread: Gold Prices Expected to Surge, Analysts Predict Possible Rise to USD 7,000

R5N3T - February 9, 2026, 6:33 pm

Bisnis.com, Jakarta – Gold prices are predicted to show a positive trend. Some analysts have even stated that gold could reach USD 7,000 in the near future.

Quoted from Nasdaq, gold remains a major highlight at this year's Vancouver Resource Investment Conference (VRIC). This can be seen from how frequently gold has become a topic of discussion, especially as prices surged past US$5,000 per ounce.

Held on January 25–26, the conference brought together various experts, with a main focus on the "Gold Outlook" panel moderated by Daniela Cambone, Global Media Director and main host at ITM Trading.

The panel featured Alastair Still, CEO and co-founder of GoldMining (TSX:GOLD, NYSEAMERICAN:GLDG); David Garofalo, Chairman and CEO of Gold Royalty (NYSEAMERICAN:GROY); Matthew Piepenburg, partner at Von Greyerz; Robert Kiyosaki, author of Rich Dad Poor Dad; and Ronald-Peter Stöferle, partner at Incrementum, for a wide-ranging discussion.

Projections , and my mentors on investing , they project the 1oz of silver to hit 220$ by December 2026 and 1oz of gold to hit 6k ! And actually , as a physical holder of silver i think so too , its a great invest on the long run .. Plus a couple of ETFs ..
