Thread: Max post count online?

Without saying any names of other forums or communities, what is your max post count online for 1 account?

This might be my top post count. I had a bunch of aliases throughout the years, elsewhere, that were maybe at 1500-5000 each and collectively, I've posted online way more than on HF, but for a single account and single community, I think this might be the one.

Maybe social media, but doubtful. I don't think I had anywhere close to 9K statuses over time in a single account

We still need to convince Omni to add a 20 year, 50 year, and 100 year award. We should all be hoping for, praying for, and expecting medical science to improve significantly in our lifetimes. I plan to live for at least 200 years, preferably 1000 or more.

I was an admin on another forum back in the day. I had 40k+ posts. I ran some high volume services on the forum so it was pretty much my job to be online all the time.
