

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Valentine's Day Contest // Victorian Fantasy Experience // Heart of HF Award // 24 HO

Artisan - February 13, 2026, 9:36 pm

Post below an ORIGINAL fantasy experience you'd share with your loved one on Valentine's Day in the Victorian era.

Be creative—describe steampunk dates, gaslamp mysteries, clockwork romances, or any immersive Victorian adventure!

The post with the most Quick Loves will win. (Ties resolved by roll in HF convo).

Contest will end in 24 hours 12:14 AM EST

Thank you to 7 for providing and fulfilling this contest.

Please check out @Josh Allen@ and @Oracle Services@ for our other Valentines day contests.

DAL-SHA - February 13, 2026, 9:38 pm

Awesome and appreciated effort put here in this thread !! Looking forward to reading the participants submissions !

JoseMar - February 14, 2026, 12:26 am

The One Minute Fantasy Disaster

This happened right before I met my wife, about a year earlier, I went to some friends for a barbecue, and a girl came as well with a guy, initially I thought they were together but I immediately found out they were siblings ?

I started talking and immediately we had a very close connection and talked about many things, we ate the barbecue and I told her to go have a drink at a bar, and from one thing to another she brought up the "fifty shades of grey" and that she likes it very much and would like to try it too.

I told her that I would also like to try certain things and it was really a fantasy for both of us and she agreed to go to her place, since she lived closer, ? only that the fantasy that we both had ended let's say in 1 minute after contact, ? (that because of me).

I was so heated up, better said we got so heated that everything went bad in 1 minute of contact, ? (I'm not joking mate ?) we had to play more of fifty shades of grey so to speak so that there would be another time, only that the first time, I completely embarrassed myself ????

I told you another story of mine, I'm a little more and I'll dox myself ????

Artisan - February 15, 2026, 4:35 am

Only one participant here so I guess hes the winner. Closing this now.