10 posts, zero pop, zero cred, and you want to help people hack by specifically accessing their computers. Sounds fishy. Especially when you want people to host RATs on their own computers.

Right that is cause I wanted to hell out and show my appreciation as a newcomer but I am on many other forums and on other apps for longer times . No need for you to come here and rant if you dont need any help. And what else do you have to say about that ?
