Thread: Need Full Stack Web Developer/Marketer For Our Computer Security School

charlesanthony - February 15, 2026, 9:49 pm

I'm thinking of selling my fuzzing script (computer security, bug bounties related, 100% legal, not illegal) I coded In Python3 (Less than 1,200 lines of code, 198 dynamic payload vectors) I use to find vulnerabilities in web servers legally (it's a gem, extremely difficult to find anything on it online, there's no competition).

It can be used for submitting to bug bounties professionally and somebody could earn $10k+ per month using my script.

Any full stack web developer/marketer want to possibly partner to build a website we can sell the fuzzing script on?

Recommended technologies: HTML5, CSS3, React, backend.

We could sell the script anywhere from $1,000 to $10,000 or more if we craft the website well enough. If we sell it at $10,000 @ 250 people then we make $2,500,000.

We could even develop a school. I have the domain name we can use.

DM me if you want to know the domain name. Get in contact with me if you're interested in working together.

Hey There,

Are you still looking ? Shoot me a PM if so.

If the upside for you is $2.5M, happy to help you out for a flat $1,000 to build out the site. Do you want to accept fiat, or crypto? If crypto, $1500. It sounds like you can make millions, so I hope this is cheap. I'd rather take the $1500 now than have a % partnership.

LMK if these terms are acceptable to you.
