Thread: So I went to the Doctors Office Healthy, now I am sick...

Rsynced - February 20, 2026, 10:34 am

Anyone else scared to go to the doctors office because they get sick after? Also how the fuck can they call it a covid VACCINE if it does not make you immune to covid and why the fuck does covid still exist with all the damn VACCINES?

I think at this point they don't give a fuck about anyone and just spread the sickness purposely as they live across the ocean on private islands, the sickness can not travel across oceans without a host, so they could care less what happens to the masses.

At this point sometimes I really hope for the sun to super nova and end all this malfunction of a so called God creation.

I have strong faith, enough to to be pissed at GOD for creating such a malfunction of a species called humans, I have been studying the true meaning of intelligence using AI and come to find insects are more intelligent and evolved than humans. Only ur species for some insane reason think we are superiors to the animal kingdom, funny I never seen a sick Ant or Cockroach in my life....

Thanks for reading my Rant, I am very upset with how my life is today. ????

In my experience and view. Our immune system is one of the most important aspects when it comes to health. Unfortunately not everyone is gifted with a very strong immune system and over time as we age. Health wise things do start to regress.

I just want to say that focus on yourself more. Focus on being healthy. Living a healthy lifestyle. Living a more grounded and natural life. As much as you can. It helps. It's not a switch. But it'll gradually help health wise.

Hold on as well. Things do get better after getting worse. Keep your chin up and towards the sunshine.

laksor - February 20, 2026, 12:25 pm

In my point of view. our immune system is the most complicated, therefor, more moving parts, more things to be broken or be taken advantage of by micro organisms and lab rats with an agenda.

a cockroach, or an insect. have nothing but a single ventral nerve cord, with a bunch of nerves and physical barriers (thick keratin layers mostly) with very few entries for any real disease, and a single cellular defense called hemocytes.

therefore there are very few stuff that can infect a cockroach. and you 99% couldnt spot it hence they cant make noises, cant speak, cant scream of pain, and are so small you can barely spot any physical symptoms

I will be ok, just to face the fact that people are filthy and our food supply is poisoned. Pople should not be so sick if we have the best health care in the world. I think we simply have the most profitable healthcare system in the world. So of course it is the best for those other the other side collecting profit from sickness.

Unfortunately, for the same reason people make that first comment. Vaccines have a common misconception of being a 'stop all' for diseases. No, it's a biological preparation that gives your immune system a heads up. Sometimes this heads up is enough for your immune system to absolutely destroy an invader. You still had to fight it, it still entered your system, but your immune system knew what to do, it seemed like it never happened in the first place.

They exists because again, the first line. "I'm not gonna get it because it doesn't actually make you immune" is the same thought a lot of people have, and with that herd immunity goes down, causing the problem to exponentially grow and get worse as more and more people get sick, and in turn more even people think "I'm not gonna get it because it doesn't work." and repeat.

Vaccines aren't supposed to simply grant you immunity, as that's not how biology works.

Knights in medieval times still died in battle is essentially the same question you're asking. Wearing the armor doesn't stop the attacks, that's not what it's for and not the reason they wore it. Instead, it gave you a better chance to not die from the attacks.

"why wear all the armor if they die anyways?"

And now you get to the edge of eradicating a disease that has wreaked havoc for centuries, but people 'do their own research' and the disease that was almost finally eradicated has a large spike and we get to deal with polio again.

Also yes, it is quite common to get sick after going to the doctors office, as go figure, sick people tend to be there and will spread germs, which is why they generally tell you to wash your hands when you leave the house and don't touch your face. It's funny because it's such a common thing that it has an actual name, "Nosocomial Infections" Do a telehealth next time or wear a mask.

Idk man, it all feels like overkill and a scam to be honest. I give up on depending on health care to get healthy. I even by personal choice stopped taking anti-anxiety meds. Simply detached and stopped worrying about stuff. Rumination seemed to be my main problem. News and Politics. Society. I guess I am down cause I have not been sick for some time and have a lot of plans to take care of... I can not say the doctor has done me much good other than the ER Saving my life from a seizure due to alcoholism and once stitches on my hand when I got cut with glass. Think I will save it for only critical things.

Jamika - February 21, 2026, 1:03 am

There are actually diseases that fall under this category... you go to the doctor and come back infected. Generally, you should keep your guard up at all times, my friend

DAL-SHA - February 21, 2026, 7:11 am

Insects , as you mentioned them in you post my friend , doesn't have ill intentions like humans do , they just operate by their nature and instinct ..

We , humans , are evil towards everything living on this planet and towards each other !

So the diseases are brought on by these actions of our species. Has to be the truth. Imagine a world of good would have no sickness as we have today.

Dude, I have covid 19 too. My mom went to the hospital and was diagnose with pneumonia then after 1 week in the hospital they sent her to rehab.

over there she picks up covid-19 couldn't breath and they had to do chest compressions. They sent her to a local hospital and was diagnosed with covid-19.

I visited her in the hospital and now she's back at the rehab center. I caught it even using a mask and using alcohol gels to clean my hands.

Me and my dad has it now. I have random high blood pressure and heart rates. I also have a headache and fever. It's a pain in the ass. At night for some reason my xygen levels drop. I feel like I am going to pass out. I just drink gateraid and take some pain pills over the counter. Hope for the best.

How have you been? You must have caught it at the doctors offiice. There's also a super flu going around. You have this while there's chinese labs in homes around the nation doing bio-hacking things.

Hope you feel better.

I agree with you that healthcare in the U.S.A is profit care. It's a big scam. I only go when I am near death and I always pray to god before going. I have met too many idiots in healthcare.. Doctors, nurses that don't know what is a healthy blood sugar level is and basic stuff that they should know. I find more each year.

I own my own facility and at the location I run my own lab. I experiment with a lot of stuff. I have made my own aspirin and other drugs.

Just from reading PHD papers on better more efficient formulas. The stuff I seen even making insulin is dirt cheap and knowing how they price things is where I can agree with you that they make record profits on stuff that doesn't cost much.

I still have the feeling like you CAN NOT BREATHE four years after covid, it is like my diaphragm muscles just stop working and feels like a band around my waist. Is this what you had / have? Doctors do not know what causes it and lungs are healthy. I stopped worrying about it since I read so many people have the same thing.

Yes, I have had it. Right now when I sleep I cannot sleep laying upwards. My heart rate drops below 60 going into 55 to 60 range.

It feels like you just said that you cannot breathe. It feels like someone has a plastic bag over my head. So, yes I know what you're saying and I experience the same. However, for me my heart rate goes from 65 bpm to 120 bpm it goes up and down and up again and down again. It makes my body feel cold and I get chills and feel like I am about to die. Like feel like I can't breathe and are about to pass out. I would check my blood pressure and I don't have a history of heart or blood pressure issues. So, my blood pressure is normally near 120 but when I got covid it's been going from 120 up to 167 to back down to 120 while having head aches and having eyebrows spasms and cramps. Anytime I get covid it I feel like I am about to die. Right now today the vitals are normal and I just have a sore throat and lost like 5 lbs. I feel ok now.. but it hit my mom the worse.

for me I don't have that issue where it lasts 4 years. covid takes a toll on your body and can damage your heart, lungs and other organs including liver and kidneys. I have had my kidneys get lightly damaged after covid which is normal and I recovered from it.

Covid for sure is bio-engineered based on how it attacks the body it's for sure designed to kill.

Pr0m3th3us - February 24, 2026, 2:49 pm

Wait....the Meme-flu is still around? And yes obviously the risks of walking into a room with 5-10 people that have an illness that is contagious via air greatly increases your chances of getting it. Happens all the time. Although the media won't let you know that, in fact during the height of covid the media was saying it's perfectly safe walking into a hospital with 100 plus sick people in 1 little room.....don't worry about it! The gaslighting was insane. Brave New World - Huxley took on a whole new meaning....

Nothing like it was before. I agree it feels like a bio-weapon. I have never had a cold feel so weird and honestly first time when I caught it, I felt drugged, like I felt the virus cross the brain-blood barrier.

Btw, Hope your Mom is ok!

Yup, never liked to be at the Doc's since I have T1D since 4yo I have been to the Doc's like every month or two.

Never liked the smell. the too bright LED lights. Like anything. But I still have to visit once or twice a year.

But the fact is that you always go there healthy, and end up being sick when you get out.
