It will happen soon. However, as we all know, life can bring unexpected problems and sometimes we're unable to access the site. After all, he runs the biggest bytes contests. Patience is key.? ?

Thanks for saying this.

While I have been able to access the site, I've just been busy and haven't had an opportunity to draw a winner yet. This is the reason I have the drawing date as an "on or around" date, in the event I don't draw it exactly on the date listed. A winner will be drawn later today, when I can take the time to screen record the drawing as I normally do.

Thanks for your patience.
