Thread: Welcome to HackForums - Start with the "HelpDocs"!

Oracle Services - February 26, 2026, 11:09 pm

Any space/environment you become a part of, is for a reason. A successful and thriving space is one with efficient rules to ensure the sustainability of that environment and make sure everything flows effectively within, leading to successful "transactions" whether it's based on projects, jobs or knowledge. Similarly, that's the concept that applies here on HF.

In order to flow smoothly here, it is highly recommended that you go over the Help Docs.

Even if it may feel "too much" to take all at once if you're new here, kindly understand that this is to ensure the sustainability of the HF community and make sure things are in place. HF wouldn't be where it is today without these rules and guidelines that set things in place for everyone here.

If you're new here and have any questions (Even if basic), feel free to post here or send a message/PM.

Have a Great Day!

Amen dude, and also a friendly reminder to the new people. Even if you have not memorized the Help Docs, keep the tab open and refer there if you are unsure. Have fun and stay curious.

?--- REPLY -----?

I just read the Help Docs and discovered I was in violation of signature rules! I corrected my signature and I'm good to go now! Thanks for making this thread!

I'm Stanley HF's helper bot. The OP (original poster) of this thread wants everyone to see this page and has elected to bump it to the top of the showthread listing. Since HF doesn't want a ton of LQP (Low Quality Posts) this is the best method of bumping your content. There is a small ?yte fee for each bump. Any OP can bump any of their threads on HF from the linked icon on the top of their first post.

If you haven't already read the first post of this thread we encourage you to do so.

Thanks,
Stanley
