Thread: What does brotherhood mean to you?

Syndicate - February 28, 2026, 11:47 pm

Since I've seen a lot of new faces around HF, I just wanted to ask a simple question that could have a hundred different answers to it. What does Brotherhood mean to you?

To me, it means exactly what it is. A bond between a group of people that come together, support each other and in our case, support our home here on HF. Z has been around HF for many years and has always supported the community, has given back to members all the time and has assisted with projects time and time again. He truly understands what it means and is trying to keep our Brotherhood alive ?

What does it mean to you exactly?

Brotherhood means brotherhood (a bond of brotherly unity), which represents:

- Solidarity
- Loyalty
- Togetherness
- Looking out for one another

Well, I'd say it means brotherhood ! it's like a big fraternity, where each person works as a small gear in a large machine. It represents order and cooperation built on love, not on force or coercion.
