Game looks beautiful. I am not a big fan of GTA. I just get too distracted. I do appreciate the fact that Rockstar keeps supporting games for many years instead of pumping out a new game every 6 months.

Its gonna be hilarious watching/reading the articles from Fox News about how many people called in sick or took vacation on the last full week of Nov. They will also have articles and moron panelists arguing on TV about how many teenagers are going to go out and emulate GTA in real life, they did it after GTA 5 launch and they will do it this time around yet at the same time they are pro "make money" and pro "rich" yet shit on Take Two and Rockstar, lol the hypocrisy of all MSM is wild nowadays.
