Just learn to chill out, there are a lot of cruel people on this forum who like to project upon other members, it doesn't matter if you are new or old. To be honest, this place is very chill compared to the hatred on reddit for example.

Try to be HQ and do not let others make you feel this way, I am OG and get the same vibes from time to time.

MY BEST ADVICE IS: DO THIS!

[Video: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nfWlot6h_JM]

I know many people hate this song so I think it's funny. Some people on this forum think I am a queer, meth head, pedo and all sort of fucked up shit. Maybe I am... hehe (well not a pedo, just jail bait chicks... lmao, they are full grown women as far as nature is concerned, so tell it to Mother Nature, either way I was called a pedo)

You don't use capital letters which makes you look illiterate and makes the forum look ugly.

Don't make posts or even worse thread titles in all lowercase it's annoying as fuck. Spoiler \(Click to View\) I may possibly be the only person that cares. Or perhaps all of Gen X cares.

Please read all of the Help Docs. You are violating rule 2 in the Posting Etiquette section.

I am now going to edit your thread title, as the all lowercase thread titles are intolerable. Also the whole title was incredibly messed up.

Perhaps English is your second language, but you still should know not to use all lowercase letters.

I have only given you one warning for this thread even though your every post deserves a warning.

I have now edited the OP's thread title which had SO many things wrong with it.

[Anyone who comes at me now, arguing that literacy is overrated and written language should just die, may or may not earn a gentle 10% nonsense warning.]

Also I don't hate you- there are worse idiots that have been banned from this forum. I just now gave your thread more of a chance and there are some bits that aren't so bad in there, but overall your ebook might be re-titled....

"How to make women really hate you and decide that you are horribly disappointing. An easy guide."

And your original title was literally "From Simp to Predator." ???

Some of the men on this forum actually, genuinely LIKE women. [Shocker.] That's why they're not so keen.

Damn, I guess because he got all hurt that people didn't like his free ebook he was trying to share or the outline of it that he was hoping to sell.

But the thing is, that although I prefer to be kind, there was just some stuff, not all of it, but some stuff- that just came across as misogynistic and icky, stuff women actually hate and stuff that would turn woman off or make them miserable.

And I am pleased to see that the majority of Hack Forums members wholly reject and laugh at that kind of thing.

It was kind of a bit pick up artist I think? Although I gave it a fair shot and realised it wasn't all bad, but the beginning was just ?

Your biggest mistake here is assuming I'm even a man. And no I'm not trans either.?

I'm sorry if you don't have a happy love life, but if you don't... why are you trying to tell other men what to do about it?

Unfortunately they pegged you. You aren't offering good advice because you aren't happy. Some women are not nice. Some men are not nice. Other women will be nice. Other men will be nice. You have to kiss a lot of frogs to find the right person for you.

No one said anything about women being perfect. But men on the whole make a lot more money than women. It doesn't hurt to buy a flower on Valentine's Day for fuck sakes.

that's such a dumb oversimplified take tbh calling someone a "victim" just because they say they got treated badly isn't growth it's just deflecting.

you're basically removing all responsibility from the person who did the damage and dumping it on the one who went through it.

yeah self improvement matters, nobody said it doesn't. but acting like bad experiences are just "mindset" is naive. you can work on yourself AND still recognize you got treated wrong.

and if your logic is 'don't be a victim' then it goes both ways and i dont know why my guide offenses ? they should just stop being victims and move forward. it's not on someone to just eat bad behavior and stay silent, it's also on people to not act like shit in the first place. [warn]

It's not about what happened, who has the responsibility, and so on. It's about not letting your bad experiences influence you to a negative mindset where you view women in a negative way.

I can't see that thread now, because its junked, but I remember it being kinda a hustle pick-up thing. So you got treated badly, you got influenced by this, and you created a thread about your negative view of women.

This is exactly what I mean when I say you have a victim mentality. You let your experiences influence you in a negative way, and most people here see this and they don't like it. Because there are much better ways of going about it.

What does it matter if it was the women who was responsible of this damage? It doesn't help you out.

bro you're completely missing the point. my thread isn't about shitting on women, and it's not even for everyone.

i'm young, i actually gave real relationships a chance. i was 100% honest. one of them was a 4 year relationship, she had a kid from her ex and that kid was calling me dad while i'm still in my 20s i stayed solid, didn't act like a dickhead, took responsibility in a situation most guys wouldn't even step into.

so don't come talk to me about "victim mindset" like i just got hurt once and started crying online.

what i'm saying comes from experience. after seeing what kind of guys she ended up liking, yeah, it changed how i look at serious relationships. that's not being a victim, that's adapting based on reality.

you say "it doesn't matter who caused the damage" but it does matter, because that's literally how you understand patterns and avoid repeating the same mistakes.

i'm not stuck, i just adjusted. there's a difference.

I am also young, I also gave real relationships a change. I was also 100% honest. Mine was with a 2-year relationship instead of 4, but you get the point.

You're saying I am missing the point, but I am not.

You say you adjusted, I am clarifying that you adjusted to a negative mindset.

You can say it's pattern matching, avoiding repetitions of mistakes, and those are important. But you still got negatively influenced, which shaped your view of women.

Your thread is not about shitting on women, I get that. But you asked why people didn't like your thread about women. I am showing you why.

i get what you're saying bro, but you're looking at it from your angle, not mine.

maybe for you it's negative, but for me it's actually positive. i stopped putting myself in situations where i expect something serious and end up disappointed.

now it's simple, no illusions, no expectations. i deal with things as they are, not what i hope they'll be.

you call it a negative mindset, i call it removing unnecessary stress. i'm not bitter, i'm just not investing the same way anymore.

and yeah, that means i move differently now. i can enjoy things without the headache, without waiting on outcomes that most of the time don't even go the way you expect.

My advice is this. If you feel like shit, just take a breather, I did that.

I have been stressing out over a lot of stuff, and I decided to take a breather from the internet. This place can mess with your head, like it or not.

Now it is also recommended not to browse the webs for too long, so go outside. take a walk, and take care of your own mental well being.

No one else will do that for you, remember that you live for yourself.

And internet is full of jealous haters, they come and go.

Stay safe and stay curious.
