Iran's Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps has announced that the Strait of Hormuz is closed and any transit through the waterway will face "harsh measures", according to state media.

It added that shipping "to and from ports of allies and supporters of the Israeli-American enemies" is prohibited through any corridor or to any destination.

thats because these other countries are now relying on US oil from the gulf.

If other countries stepped up, it would be easier for these nazis to surrender.

This is all bullshit. Iran doesn't have the capability to close anything. It doesn't even have a functioning air force. This phony war is being used to hike energy prices and possibly justify future power shortages.
