Thread: Looking for partner with C2, FUD, stealers & RAT skills.

shuttershades - March 29, 2026, 8:37 pm

I'm bringing to the table my traffic sources and front-end skills for building high-converting landing pages.

I can drive between 10,000 and 50,000 genuine daily visits to our links. All the traffic is 100% clean — no ads, no popunders, and I've blocked search engine crawlers as well as all known bot user agents.

What I need from you is to handle the technical side: FUD, trojans, stealers, loaders, crypters, RATs, HVNC, C3 infrastructure, and everything related to the payload and command & control.

I require full transparency, including shared access to the C2 panel so we can both monitor the results in real time.

As a marketer, I already have at least five proven methods to monetize this traffic effectively. The proposed split is 50/50.

If you're interested, send me your Telegram username via DM or post it here.

Hey, Interesting, I sent you a message.

I see the proportions, but not the amount of visitors.

Are these charts based on 100 visitors, 1000, 10K, 100K, 1M , or what?

You mentioned that you can get thousands of visitors per day, but the charts don't list the time period they represent.

Will you be able to provide proof of traffic to a potential partner? If they use a tracker and don't receive a minimum # of hits, will you be flexible? For example if you say you drive 10K visitors but they only get 150 visitors, what's your thoughts? Would you take less $$ because you didn't hold up your end of the deal? I know you want a partnership but you're asking for someone to do a LOT of work with the promise of traffic, so I think you should be able to clarify how you can prove the traffic before they start, and what happens if you fail.

Man fuck off with those questions? WTF.

OP Is not selling and there's nothing to refund. Please read the thread.

OP is simply trying to find a partner who can weaponize the traffic.

Don't post this BS and consider removing it as it's irritatingly stupid, only reply if you can bring something to the table or have something relevant to add/say.

Thanks, I still think OP should be more than willing and happy to prove to a potential partner that they have the traffic they claim to have, before the partner builds out the entire system and gives access.

Not a refund, just a partnership - time theft from devs is a real problem. I wouldn't build anything for a partner without having a good view of what they bring to the table first. I don't think anyone should jump into this type of work without knowing their partner is legit, and OP is a new user with little actual proof, so that's why I asked.

OP - Please clarify when you can, I'm sure anyone worth partnering with will also be more than happy to prove their own skills to you too. Goes both ways, nothing weird about it.

Yes to all your questions, mate. We can definitely start with baby steps. I can track the traffic on my end, and the client can track it on theirs—I have no issues with that.

I might look like a newbie here on HF, but I've spent most of my time on other marketing forums. I have solid experience with CPA networks (OGAds, CPAGrip, etc.) and have also worked with PPI (pay-per-install) networks in the past.

I recently tested this particular traffic source/method with CPA and a few other offers, but the conversion rate wasn't great, which is why I'm looking for alternatives.

As you can see, it started a test on 27/03 and has since stopped, with traffic peaking on 28/03. However, because my traffic generation method creates a snowball effect, I am still receiving passive traffic.

"you're asking for someone to do a LOT of work" your words. But I have not requested a custom rat/c2 etc...since you are playing in this field, you should have them around under your fingers already...so basically you just pass these to me and I promote/spread them for you...then we can discuss business. Right?
