Thread: If you could be the OWNER of 1 token, which crypto would you choose?

Hackers - April 1, 2026, 8:35 am

— WHICH CRYPTO WOULD YOU RUN? —

Not as an investor, not as a dev, but as the original founder & owner and manager of any treasury (if applicable)... Which token/crypto/network would you choose to own and manage if you could snap your fingers and be in charge?

There are no pennies for your thoughts, only vibes. Answer the question or don't, at your peril.

Remember, more is not always better. More responsibility, more liability, and if you want to sell your Ether you can't just sell it all at once without tanking the market value because all the bots in the world are hooked into ETH.

peldon - April 1, 2026, 10:28 am

For me, Sui and ethereum

Bitcoin and XMR. If XMR was the first crypto to be released, I'm sure the popularity would've been just like BTC.

Marvelous - April 1, 2026, 9:48 pm

Probably BTC, I would love to work for the CIA!

HYPE: it's the highest revenue generating protocol in all of crypto that uses 99% of it for token buybacks.

Why wouldn't I want to own the number protocol's token?

Lyralei - April 2, 2026, 8:06 am

Monero since it's the Rust of cryptocurrency.

Edmond Dantes - May 10, 2026, 4:36 am

Litecoin as its my favourite coin.

RAT - May 20, 2026, 1:38 pm

Bitcoin probably. Has matured enough and will not die easily as that either. Even though there are better alternatives available right now.

Mastercarder - May 20, 2026, 7:13 pm

Monero for sure. It's the backbone crypto

Yin Yang - May 20, 2026, 7:36 pm

Uniswap or Chainlink would be dope

Omniscient - May 22, 2026, 3:49 pm

Monero first one that comes to mind.

5chn4pp - May 22, 2026, 4:03 pm

Since nobody has taken it yet, I'll do Solana.

flyingduck - May 22, 2026, 4:14 pm

ETH/SOL/LTC - all of those have a good shot in the longrun :)

LSD - May 22, 2026, 9:37 pm

Not sure I would want to be in charge of any of them. I think that defeats the whole purpose of cryptocurrency.

In that case, I would have to venture out and say Tether. I think Tether is a sleeper pick because it is the only one where there is just so much fucking revenue coming in that the owners and founders are extremely rich. That's all that really matters in the end, I guess: just being extremely fucking rich. On top of that, it's one of the only cryptocurrencies/stablecoins that all of the other cryptocurrencies rely on. It has an extremely large moat, at least right now.

For example, USDT profited just over a billion dollars on average every single month in 2025.
