Thread: Finding info in UK?

Quintus Fabius Maximus - April 9, 2026, 4:40 pm

Idk if it's just me but what I have noticed is that there are lot of tools in USA that are very effective but trying to find info on someone in the UK seems to be notoriously difficult. Any suggestions?

Electoral Register is a good start

If they own a business then Companies House is also a good place to look.

OSINT tools like Sherlock might help you gather enough information to move to the next step. Im also going to PM you a tool that could help you faster free and very easy to use.
