Yes, my friend, Java... 100%

As for your question,

Of course, these features are only for "Windows".

Transporter007 - April 13, 2026, 2:55 am

Vouch copy available ?

Output jar is fully fud and bypass chrome and wd ?

martigo333 - April 13, 2026, 3:03 am

Does it bypass win Defender & smartscreen?

Yes, my friend. bypasses 100%, because it is entirely Java-based.

And since it operates using the Java library, it consistently bypasses SmartScreen.

As for the Defender issue;

In the Builder section, there are options for a obfuscator and class encryption;

Consequently, every build features a distinct signature and is unique. It is completely FUD.

I would like to provide a reference copy, but I would be unfair to other users. I cannot provide a reference copy.

The output jar file is 100% FUD and Chrome and Defender are completely bypassed.

and other AV's.

I haven't asked for one, neither will I. I dislike your service.

It is quite unfair and illogical to claim you 'dislike' a service that you have never used, tested, or purchased.

Judging a product without even trying it speaks volumes about your intentions.

Regardless, I am going to focus my time on serious buyers now.

Have a great day my friend....

I dislike your attitude. That's a service you provide.

Before you judge my attitude as a service provider, I suggest you take a look at the tone of your very first comment: '4 posts, 0 sales and ?'.

On top of that, leaving an unfair (-12 popularity) rating clearly shows how hostile your intentions really are.

Congratulations. Respect is mutual, and I won't be replying to this chain further.

Aha now I see it. 2 threads same project one calls himself a "reseller".. That one said to me dm for vouch copy and you don't provide vouch copies. Strange isn't that, if he replies I am not interested. Anyways GLWS. I haven't rated u for the vouch copy but for your attitude only.
