Thread: Seeking one partner for long term project

???????? - April 24, 2026, 5:05 pm

Hello I am gonna make this simple to the point
Looking for a long term partner for a long term project for my forum

Years and years

Need to be able to bring something to the table
Not just "I can help moderate"

Kindly send me a DM with what potential you can offer

You would be co owner all profits and revenue split equally

Much love to everyone !

Depending on what you are looking for, I'd be happy to bring the developer side of things to the table? Maybe look into expanding the forum with plugins or games maybe similar to how we have games on here - Obviously, depends on the niche/type of forum.

Although, if you already have the forum then you may have already got it covered but thought I'd at least throw my hat into the ring :)

I've got experience with py, goLang, php/laravel, js/vue/nuxt etc and can invest time in learning another language if it would suit better.

Either way, I wish you the best with this project even if I don't get picked :)

Feel free to fire me a DM/convo.

Hello. I am interested, just to PM me

Air Gunman - April 26, 2026, 6:38 pm

What kind of forum will this be?

I am a marketing expert with big community on telegram and i have the technique to advertise and get traffic into a certain website (not ads). I would be willing to invest some money to drive traffic into the forum.

If you are still looking for a partner, please reply here so I can show you what I have. Thank you

Interesting could this technique be spamming?
