Thread: How much time do you spend online daily?

waraktis - April 29, 2026, 9:21 am

Never really thought about it but probably more than I should.

Between gaming, browsing, random stuff it adds up fast.

How many hours do you think you spend online?

HerrWinston - April 29, 2026, 9:25 am

I easily spend 5 hours a day online, most of the time by far more. My hobby is using the internet, watching videos, gaming, learning, it all happens while I am online :)

Always online tbh. Have to be if you resell stuff pretty much

Yeah same here tbh, it adds up way faster than you expect when you don't really track it ?

True that, if you're doing reselling you kinda have to stay online most of the time.

Depends how important or interesting the work is. I won't stay up just for fun but then I am working almost every day.

Right now I slept 5 hours and I've been up for over 15 hours.

It is irrelevant to me if it is light or dark out, there is always a part of the world moving.

Do what you love and you'll never work a day in your life.. Nor sleep..

BUT, it's not for everyone, be careful with your health! Seriously.

X out

Edmond Dantes - April 30, 2026, 4:36 am

I'm spending about 2-3hours everyday as I'm busy with work now.

That's not bad at all, do you mostly use that time for browsing or something specific?
