Nice. Good for both forum activity and your post count. :P

I'd like to make a run for 24k soon, finally finish the road to that beautiful star award I've wanted since 2013 lol.

I just wish I had had more time this month. Sadly have been bogged down by work irl, as usual, but even more so at the moment due to all the damn tensions in the Middle East and more specifically the Strait of Hormuz. Been a huge headache for me and anyone else who works in my industry.

I've been meaning to but just simply haven't had the free time to do so, but I need to compile all of my award descriptions so I can send them to Omni so I can finally have my awards back lol. So I'm still very much so an award whore. :D That and I've wanted the Lucky award since Omni added it. It's such a nice award, not to mention, because of gambling I love anything involving "luck" or "aces" or trip 777's (my UID for example), etc.

Damn, down to less than 48 hours left. This for me felt like it FLEW by. Everyday I'd login at work I'd see HF in the corner and want to peak it so bad, but I knew as soon as I clicked the icon that I'd get distracted and end up spending time I didn't have free. Adulting is no fun at times.

Also, not sure if this feedback helps you gauge metrics at all, but I found out about this contest as soon as I visited the HF home page one day and saw the pinned board announcement, not by email. The Lucky award is part of what really caught my attention, that and obviously the crypto values as I'm sure everyone else who clicked was intrigued by.

I actually just double checked my email and I never received one about this contest.

The Pact - May 31, 2026, 12:19 am
