Bytes are the forum's currency. You can use them to gamble on various games through the site such as sports book, slots, and flipping in public convo. You can also bump your threads, quick love other users for their posts or threads, and invest into the crypto game.

Also if you run out of bytes from gambling or purchasing things, there's people in the marketplace section selling bytes.

Watch out that you don't gamble away all your bytes. It is very easy to get addicted to the games here and end up with no bytes at the end of the day.
