Crazy to think of the friendships i've made in this forum, first person i met was actually a great hacker and friend , we went to EDM festival about 4 years ago, and last month i did a europe roadtrip through 9 countries and met the first person i made friends with here on HF , he is banned now but man was it fun. Life is crazy ?

I've also met two people I've met exclusively on HF.
James is gone now but Vix is still here somewhere.

It's pretty cool when you meet other neurodivergent people online and transition to online.

Sounds pretty nice I'm way to paranoid to meet people from online irl

That's cool man! Who was it?

I've been lucky enough to meet several people, including iHydra.
The only other person I'd like to meet is probably D3xus.

Very cool. Isn't that an awesome feeling? I've done this with two different groups of gamer friends that I've met over the years.

I've yet to meet anyone currently (or ever to my knowledge) registered here. I did know someone through mutual friends whom I never met in person that told me he was an active user here, but that was many years ago now.

Yeah it can be sketchy .. but after of building a friendship you will know who you should meet and who you shouldn't

Yeah, I don't think I will meet anyone from HF. Maybe Beherit if he down to go gunpla shopping with me

Meeting someone from forums is cool. I'd definitely like to meet someone if I travel abroad :)

Saterax - May 15, 2026, 11:27 am

Wait, what? These people actually exist? Smh and I thought I was just talking to a buncha LLMs.
