Bro, this movie come out Friday called obsession basically it's about a guy wishes a girl liked him and it doesn't go how he wished it would. Anyway, these guys were Facebook reel people now they're making big boy movies and I'm stoked to take my woman to see it. So yeah, I do recommend.

No I'm waiting for it to leave theatres and be rentable on like YouTube. But the guy who made the movie has made short films on YouTube and they're so good. He's got a great creative horror mind.

I believe they said it would be streamable within the next two weeks. June 2nd.
