Take-Two Interactive CEO Strauss Zelnick has once again reaffirmed that Grand Theft Auto 6 remains on track for its November 19, 2026 release date, despite the game already suffering multiple delays.

Speaking in a recent interview highlighted by Insider Gaming, Zelnick said he knows exactly when the game will launch and repeated the now-familiar date with confidence. The comments arrive as anticipation around GTA 6 continues to dominate the gaming industry ahead of what many analysts expect to become one of the biggest entertainment launches ever.

GTA 6 has already slipped by nearly two years

Rockstar Games originally targeted a 2025 launch window for GTA 6 before pushing the game to May 2026. In November 2025, the company delayed the title again to November 19, 2026.

With Summer Games Fest happening later this week, something new for GTA 6 surely going to be shown, and Take Two containing to say the November 19th release is still set, it seems we should be safe to assume this date will actually stick. It would be quite a blunder and with a lot of backlash if yet another delay occurred. I do truly think at this point that we're past all of that though and we'll get the game Nov 19th. It's going to be a crazy release.

i never paid for rockstar games ever and all their games is just gta3 with more dialog and better graphics nothing else changes

Edmond Dantes - June 28, 2026, 1:01 am

Anyone managed to preorder it yet?

cookiez123 - June 28, 2026, 7:23 am

I wonder when the PC release is, hopefully not more than a year after console release...

That's one take. Rockstar games are generally some of the most sound, cinematic and profound storytelling media out there. They stand the test of time, too.

lol this comment reminds me of the losers who say they won't support a company because of certain views they have. "That'll teach em!"....Let's check on how Nike, anheuser busch and Disney are doing.. Still around and not giving a fuck about those people not buying their product.

Point is, rockstar and take 2 aren't missing anything from you. Your less then a 1/100,000th of a drop of nut sweat to them....congratulations.

I was going to ask the same question. Check this, GTA 1,2,3,4,5 were all pc so maybe we'll get a torrent that is just under a terabyte for the boys?

I haven't trusted torrented games for the last 10 years.....they always have malware and you can guarantee this one will all day.

What a bitch move by Rockstar to not have a physical disc for this game. One more reason not to buy it.

lol us PC gamers haven't had a physical disk for over 20 years bro.....deal with it. I still have all my games since 2001 on steam. The game is to big to be on a disk anyways, what are you stuck in 2005???? You do know its 2026 right? If anything it should be on USB drive. A 1tb USB is $145 on amazon, imagine how much that is for a company like take two....pennys. Go back to reddit bro. GTFO. Nobody here gives a fuck about your bitching.

Yea 99% of torrents have malware in them nowadays. I only download movies and TV shows and its on a separate plex rig. I use it for NOTHING else lol.
