He is selling Claude MAX - 5X accounts in <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6325341> but what he actually selling is Claude teams standered seat which can be baought for 25$. I paid 135$ for calude max 5x 3 months accounts as decribed in his thread. But what he delived was normal standered seat and untill I show him proof he keep said he will give premium seat. and then he said he has enterprice plan which is another lie. he only had normal teams subscription proof of actuall account details and how he lied he give premium seats an then he has enterprice account and keep lying and then finally blocked me when ask for refund

You marked your contract as completed before verifying the account? I guess it wasn't immediately obvious and that's what he was counting on.

I though mark as complete just mean from my side i paid for the account :(

Well made dispute thread. This isn't the correct format for a dispute, but overall a good community alert for that user and services offered.

You can still dispute the contract if it is completed. Copy and paste everything from here into the dispute.
