Thread: What sites can you instantly sell csgo skins?

CryptoMancer - May 22, 2026, 4:52 am

I am trying to sell a skin instantly but no idea what site is legit and does it instantly

Weekend Offender - May 25, 2026, 8:48 pm

Noone does it instantly anymore due to the 7 day hold but I would only use Buff or csfloat...Although used shadier ones in the past I would not recommend to use any other than the 2 i listed.

Steam Marketplace does it instantly. Bots buy them.....

when was last time you did this? I will go try now but swear there was a rule brought out when the 5 reds for a knife trade up came. I will be back in a minute.

like i said every week. I get the case from weekly. Post it. It sells because bots buy them.

The common "7-day trade lock" applies to:

- item trades between accounts,
- newly purchased market items in some cases,
- changing security settings like your authenticator,
- or receiving traded items.

So if you sell a CS2 skin:

You can usually use the wallet funds right away to buy games or other market items.

You just can't cash the money out to real currency through Steam itself.

If you're asking because you plan to cash out through a third-party skin site afterward, the important thing is:

the sold item is gone immediately, and the wallet balance cannot be transferred off Steam directly.

Oh you are correct..forgive me I only HvH and have nothing I truly know regarding what goes down for legit players...only from what I read.

He's talking about selling cases on the steam market where you don't need to make a trade.

But OP looks like he does not want steam money so would need to move them off to 3rd party. If he wants steam credit then goodluck.

OP never specified. I don't open cases for skins because its lame and ruined the game. So yea i get them once a week and sell them for my steam wallet.

Weekend Offender - May 25, 2026, 9:24 pm

Cases opening is the game ...we just got a mini-game as an FPS sideloaded for us.

Yeah, I wasn't 100% on his intentions, but I guess I just assumed if he's getting a case weekly, it's being sold on the Steam market

(considering and mentioning no site does it instantly)

I think he needs a site where you get instant sale price for your skin, rather than waiting for someone to buy it for the price you list it at.

Talking about getting non steam money on a site where I could sell for crypto
