Thread: Anyone still playing OSRS?

Mercury - May 22, 2026, 7:56 pm

Hey everybody,

I'm looking to potentially find others that are still playing OSRS. I was out of it for quite some time and recently picked it back up. I'm not at endgame content yet (only level 76) but I'd still love to group up with others when possible or even make a clan. Feel free to give me a shout if you play.

I just finished Monkey Madness and I forgot how fucking annoying that quest is.

Yeah quite a few OSRS players here

There's another member on here that's completely maxed and one of the top players of OSRS, not sure if he wants me tagging him.

Last time I played was 2 years ago and I was banned with 4b. I might make an appeal maybe I could get unbanned.

Thats an atrocity. I'm only sitting on about 50M currently.

Haha not necessary my friend. I'd be happy enough with others to play the game with.

I bought a money making method recently that involves botting some accounts on OSRS and maxing them, then selling them but got no clue how to do it as I never played the game.

Ah nice. I was looking at bot clients a bit last night. There is one on here that looks pretty decent but the website required a discord sign in, which I didn't really like.

I wouldn't be opposed to botting. The grind is..well, grindy. Haha

Some mutual IRL through my ex does. I know a couple people here that play as well.

Not a fan. WoW is my jam.

Nice. I've played WoW on and off since wotlk was current.

In a casual clan that still has weekly raids/masses and organizes by Discord called LSZ, level 126, total level 2013 although I spend most of my time either maxing on runtime ore as my money maker or playing Soul Wars for my PvP fix. Hit me up sometime: McClubbin10

Can I run it on Linux? Haha

I've never tried a private server but it sounds fun. I'd love to hear more about it.

I'd love to play sometime. Gotta work today though sadly.

I still pay sometimes.

I started playing again a couple of months ago after a fairly lengthy break. That's how it goes though with OSRS. You never truly quit, you just take breaks when you get bored or life gets too busy. Anyway, the limited time Leagues 6: Demonic Pacts mode was going to be starting up and I always enjoy the Leagues LTMs so figured I best get a feel for the game again prior. Played some mainscape leading up to it and then played the Leagues mode for 2-3 weeks. I believe it ends on June 10th and there is still a lot I want to do on there so I'll probably be hopping back into it in the coming days. After that, I'll likely be back to mainscape as well.

Yes actually, especially older game versions such as the core I run

The first time I played OSRS a while back was my first botting attempts. I was managing 10 different bots from scratch. They got premium geared up and started slaying the dragon for expensive stuff. 8 hour sessions, I even had dedicated VPS IPs and they still disappeared one by one, so I quit. Didn't even sell the remaining bots either, or buyers were too slow to buy them.

I must admit, it was fun even though I knew shit. Those trolls checking your drills was funny. Watching the bots hunt in caves was fun to watch. My mule even got banned lol.
