Thread: Paranormal Experiences

Watching one of my fav youtube channels Bedtime Stories and got to thinkin.....How many of you have had LEGITIMATE Paranormal Experiences? I'm not talking about some BS dream you had or you watched some looser you tuber do something and you went a tried to recreate it....im talking actual experiences that happened to you without you provoking anything, just happened one day.....leaving you wondering wtf just happened and something burned into your memory for years....

I personally have never, not once, had a single Paranormal Experience. I find it somewhat skeptical and take peoples experiences with a grain of salt as there is usually stuff they leave out that i feel is pertinent to the situation, and usually sheds doubt on it.

Right so I'm not reading all the posts cause I'm terrified of this stuff. But when I was in high school I saw a kid run and hide behind this like post.. like he was playing a game I never took my eyes off it thought maybe it's just a kid visiting with a parent.. lunch bell rang, walked by... no kid there. Terrifying to think about

Never experienced paranormal activity but watched a lot of movies that are based on a true story.

Ive never been a believer in this sort of thing, even despite growing up terrified of certain horror movies. We should however attempt to resurrect those bytes with a ouija board.

Sadly none I don't believe in ghosts or paranormal activity but if it happend to be I would probably start believing I only believe in things that can be proven.

Well I am in India and it's about my hometown. It was around 10 pm when I was standing on the terrace of my house and I could see a shadow on the wall of other house's terrace. Shadow of a human standing and watching me. I still remember it to this date, and people have claimed of a ghost on that house which I came to know when I told others about it.

The only time this ever happened to me was when I was way younger, getting ready for school, and I saw a large black figure basically teleport from the middle of my street to the sidewalk, then disappear. Needless to say, I told my parents I was staying home that day because I was terrified.

I have a shirt i got on ebay during the human malware years that says just that. It triggered a couple of people at work when i wore it. Good times.

I have stuff slightly moving or falling off every once in a while. It's not very obvious like a spoon that falls off from the middle of a table. It's just a small little nudge. I never think of it as malevolent though, but rather that I am being protected and that my spirit guides are near. Whenever that happens I take it as a sign to pay more attention, and what usually follows is a lyric from a song that either perfectly resonates with my situation and brings a smile on my face, or an answer to a question I've been thinking about a lot lately. It will also happen exactly when the time is like 11:11, 15:33, 14:44, repeating numbers.
