Sourced by the HF News Archive Project.

For 16 years, HF News has been the heartbeat of this forum's history. What started as a humble weekly digest has grown into 588 editions of site news, group drama, member milestones, interviews, awards, bans, and every little story worth remembering.

None of that happens without the people who write it, edit it, publish it, and contribute to it edition after edition. Today I want to take a moment to thank everyone who has ever contributed to HF News — current writers and the long list of journalists, interviewers, editors, compilers, graphical artists, proofreaders, overseers, supervisors, and publishers who came before them.

To the current team — thank you for keeping the lights on. The site is more interesting because of the time you put in every week.

To the historic contributors — your name is somewhere in the HF News Archive forever. Every weekend roundup, every interview, every "Notable Threads" pick you wrote is still helping new members understand who we are and where we came from. You built something that outlived you.

If you've contributed to HF News in any capacity, count yourself thanked.

Below is the roll call of every member who has contributed to 25 or more editions.

If you're not on this list but you've ever written a single line for HF News, you're part of this too.

To everyone reading: take a moment today to give positive popularity to members who have made HF better. That's the Goodwill Monday tradition, and honoring it is what keeps this place worth being part of.
