Thread: Bodycam vid reveal Missing Gen. McCasland Met With Pentagon Unit Before Disappearance

Hackers - June 4, 2026, 1:20 pm

The plot thickens folks. A few days ago, bodycam footage was revealed that shows McCasland meeting with a secretive Pentagon unit related to the US Space Force, on the night before his disappearance. Why does this matter? Well, all of the missing people are connected to US Gov research programs involving space, aircraft, energy, nuclear tech, and similar classified programs or related research fields. China also has a list of missing scientists in these areas too.

if you're unfamiliar with his specific case, this is a good breakdown:

According to the 2016 WikiLeaks as well as more recent documents, McCasland was heavily involved with US Gov's research into UAP/UFO & related technologies.

It's worth noting that he is one of the most sought after missing people, from the list of 14 missing experts related to nuclear energy, aerospace, and energy. His career speaks for itself, and his disappearance merits our attention tbh.

His handgun is missing, just like others in the list of 14. They recently discovered 1 of the missing people - dead, with only her handgun. She had wiped & left her phone before departing. McCasland left his phone at the home, but his gun is nowhere to be found. There's a 3rd that also left with only a handgun, and there are also a total of 5 of the 14 that left without any personal items at all.

At this time there is no conclusive evidence to say why these people are missing, what happened, etc. We can only speculate and find coincidences between them. I want to mention that the list is actually larger than 14 missing people if you include others in these fields a bit more loosely.

It should be noted that his colleague Monica Reza is also still missing:
