Apparently there was a giant 8TB exposed DB found on an exposed Elasticsearch cluster. It is no longer publicly exposed.

Which one of you left the back door open?

You can read more by going to Cybernews I cant post the link but its the top article. I need to make a post to be able to interact with the site so sorry for the shitpost.

Site requires 50 posts to be able to post links but just google Cybernews and the first article is the one you'll be looking for.

I try to tell people all the time that telegram is cooked...

ModernEHustle - June 19, 2026, 1:26 pm

Seems like these happen daily now
