Operation Endgame (Concise Summary)

- * International operation led by Europol with global law enforcement
- * Targeted malware used for ransomware, fraud, and data theft: SocGholish, Amadey, and StealC.
- * €41 million in criminal cryptocurrency assets frozen.
- * 27 million stolen credentials recovered.
- * 326 servers and 142 domains taken down.
- * 14,971 infected WordPress websites cleaned.
- * Over 140,000 computers were linked to Amadey and StealC infections in May 2026.
- * Goal: disrupt the entire cybercrime supply chain, making ransomware and malware attacks harder to carry out.

I would recommend everyone stay away from Russian forums because almost everyone there is on a hit list. It's much safer to stay on this forum and conduct business here instead 10,000% safer.

That website is pretty interesting. Thanks.

That's a massive monetary figure. Those ransomware gangs really swim around in money. ?

This kind of news is always interesting.

But it's still a bit annoying that law enforcement acts so cocky and basically insinuates that anyone who visits that site is a criminal waiting to be arrested. Law enforcement also has its fair share of corrupt cops, fake evidence, fake allegations, and wrongfully convicted people, as it is. (Rant rant :)

I'm so curious what the top WP sites they infected were...
