Thread: Looking for a high-skilled toolkit developer

scopenomad - June 30, 2026, 5:07 am

Our team has long been generating monthly revenue of $300K–$500K through two distinct business models, supported by a highly stable infra.

However, our tool developer recently left due to personal case, so we are currently seeking a replacement.

The following skills are mandatory:

Windows, Mac, and Android RATs; PDF (Word/Image) loaders utilizing LNK exploits and AV evasion techniques.

Optional, experience with zero-day exploits is a major plus.

We are looking for an elite professional to join our team.

We are willing to share up to 50% of the profits with a qualified partner.

We can discuss specific details via PM or Telegram. PM me first

We can talk. I have the skills you mentioned. I work with malware and I'm from Brazil. Perhaps we could collaborate.
