Thread: Palantir Mass Surveillance

Omniscient - July 6, 2026, 10:16 am

I wasn't exactly sure where to post this but decided here was as close as I could get.

I hope members spread this video on their own Social Media accounts.

He says it all very well. Please, watch.

Absolutely correct.

- *Zeta Global

- *Snapchat

All of these companies are tied to Palantir in one way or another. They track user behavior and influence algorithms in certain ways. The only way to beat this is to stop using social media or keep it limited, stay mentally disciplined, and remain strong.

I disagree that stopping usage of Social Media stops it. I think you have to become ungovernable. Don't allow being in public or on social media change your behavior. IMHO, act even worse. Let them understand that if they want to know our worst thoughts, let's give it to them. Let them understand we HATE THEM. We hate their system, we hate their ideology. MORE HATE.

Troll the FUCK out of them.

I watched the clip. Very nicely put and worded.

I remember years ago before AI exploded politicians and talking heads complaining about how china has cameras everywhere and uses facial recognition and social credit system in some areas on the civilians. Oh how the tables have turned.

There are even surveillance cameras at US science stations in Antarctica ffs...for "safety". Pretty soon they will be on the moon for "research".

We are so cooked.

Yeah, he's right. He breaks it down very well.

This is THE WAY. ?

He seems to have a way of explaining things so nice and clear. Also completely, without a doubt, agree with every word he said.

I can't imagine what 10 years from now will look like. Heck, even 5.

Great point. In short terms, use the weapons they created against them.

As I said in another post, the United States is not a democracy. And what he says proves that.

Extensions or privacy settings are likely blocking it.

Great video and message.

The "Karp" guy (talking head of Palantir) gives off the same vibe as the rest of the tech heads, using phrases like, "We want people to..." like they were selected to control people's lives.

And Palantir in particular seems especially evil, with its plans for movie villain style surveillance in every country, even across Europe.

Palantir is a parasitic entity, indeed.

I would share the video if I had a social media account.
