I have loved Call of Duty zombies since I started playing it in Black ops 1. Kino Der Toten was my first map and made me fall in love with the mode.

Any other zombies players here? If so what's your favorite map or CoD zombies game?

Hard for me to pick my favorite map but a few of my favorites are Kino Der Toten, Ascension, Call of the Dead, Moon, Origins, and Der Eisendrache.

Favorite game for zombies would probably be Black ops 1. I might be biased because that was my first CoD zombies, but I always felt it had the best base gameplay and atmosphere of them all. Definitely love the hell out of Black ops 3 especially with the zombie chronicles DLC that remastered a bunch of maps from BO1 and Origins from BO2.

Ever since Black Ops Cold War zombies hasn't been the same since they turned it n to warzone and made it painfully easy. Didn't bother playing 7, though I've been tempted to heard the zombies on there is actually pretty good

Went on a ramble there, hell I love zombies

I own BlackOps 3 for PC and would always play Zombies on there. Left 4 Dead was also a great series.

Shi No Numa in World at War was my absolute favourite. Back then, there was some early, hidden tech where you would just permanently run around and kite zombies with the Wunderwaffe. For the most rounds survived, I was #5 in the EU during its prime. Then, all the glitches and bugs got discovered, and many people overtook me pretty quickly.

I got to get my PC shipped back up to me I love BO3 zombies on PC especially because of the custom maps people make for it in the steam workshop. Just got my consoles at the moment.

Left 4 Dead slaps and again especially on PC because of steam workshop. Some really funny addons on there haha.

#5? Holy shit haha. I enjoy Shi No Numa a lot too. That reimagining of it they did for Vanguard was the only decent part of that shit game. I miss all the old bugs and glitches

Loved zombies back in the old school CoD days. I'll always remember the OG map of World at War best. The OG map for Black Ops 1 is certainly right behind it as well though. So many great memories playing them. Haven't been as much into zombies for most of the newer CoDs, but a couple of them such as Cold War I did grind a good amount strictly for camos. Goes without saying though that it just didn't hit anywhere near the same as the OG ones did.
