Thread: Funko Pops

TB12 - July 11, 2026, 11:09 am

I have seen these around for years and I finally got my first Funko Pop. Not sure if I will collect these long term but I got one to start. Got Nel from the anime Bleach. Any funkoo collectors in the house?

Nice! What dragon ball z ones you got? My stepbrother introduced me to DBZ when I met him and I do want to get a few of those at some point

It looks cute and funny at the same time. Can it be placed on a desk?

This is a cool Funko its nice to see them in poses I remember Funkos a few years ago being quite standard flat poses.

I've seen them every now and again when running errands. I don't know, one day they existed and I still don't know their purpose.

I collect Halloween décor.

I have a few from years ago, but haven't put them back on display yet. I should really find them to see what they're now worth.

They're just simply to collect and display. They got ones for lots of different fandoms :)

You should definitely check, I know some rare exclusive ones go for a decent amount!

Huge collector here. I've got just about every horror Funko I can get my hands on. Along with a couple dozen GOT's. My favorite however, would have to be my Tyler Durden.
