Thread: Anyone else here since the early 2010s?

o??ervan? - July 14, 2026, 8:08 pm

Just wondering how many old-timers are still around.

I've been a member since 2012. I used to post a lot back then, and these days I'm mostly reading along. It's funny how a forum can stay part of your routine for over a decade.

Would be cool to hear from others who've been here for 10+ years.

When did you join, and do you still stop by regularly?

Scrub - July 14, 2026, 8:21 pm

Been here for over 10 years. Accounts were purged and I was allowed back, always had the name scrub.

I check in when I can, a lot has changed since back in the day.

Eran - July 15, 2026, 2:05 am

Unfortunately I wasn't here at the time, I did have an account in 2016 (this one is 2021) but props to those who are still here from the beginning. I'll likely be here till the end.

J?son - July 15, 2026, 2:19 am

Raijin - July 15, 2026, 1:51 pm

That is why this account doesn't show I was registered in 2007..

I remember the ddos booters... days.

Edmond Dantes - July 16, 2026, 5:32 am

?ystem - July 16, 2026, 2:43 pm

I had to look to remember how long it's been. 2010. Good gravy. I like to check in everyday or so for the hell of it.

Vip?r - July 16, 2026, 2:54 pm

2014 old fag checking in
99% of the people I knew are gone

forum is far different than it used to be in a lot of ways

Noble - July 16, 2026, 3:17 pm

I was on and off since this HF since 2010. Years fly by quicker the older you become.

Here since 2011... just came back after an 8 year hiatus. A lot has changed and I really miss the way it used to be on here lmao

I never was a avid lounge poster and I used to stick to the monetizing sections but they are completely dead now :/

Don't even get me started... this shit scares me so much. feels like I blinked and 6 years went by :/

After covid everything is so fast paced now and its nerve wrecking
