I know that this movie isn't exactly new. I had not seen it before. I kept seeing clips from the movie and I kept hearing great reviews about it. I finally decided to watch it tonight. Damn I'm glad I finally did. This was such an excellent movie. It's about an unlucky assassin who gets hired for a simple task only to end up on a bullet train with a group of other assassins all hired for different tasks. The movie is action packed, star packed, lots of comedy also. I give it a 9.5/10. If you haven't seen it, it's my highest recommended movie to watch this week.

I saw this movie shortly after it was released in theaters and I thoroughly enjoyed it. I've been meaning to watch it again, and more than likely will once I'm back home in a few days.
