Likelihood of this working is pretty slim unless you are super talented at being convincing and super good at targeting the right women. I mean women do get stung by romance scams all the time and it's vastly

They aren't going to pay you to talk sexy they can get that for free if they wanted it not matter what they look like pretty much. Men will do that with a woman that they've never even seen. Men hit on woman they never seen while having ZERO idea what they even look like. Try being a woman and put up an ad looking for work on a grocery store noticeboard with a female name.

Using a pack for gay men is probably quite a good ewhore market and also gay Only Fans market.
