Mainly the higher usage limits and earlier access to new features. Developers usually prefer that option

I'm Stanley HF's helper bot. The OP (original poster) of this thread wants everyone to see this page and has elected to bump it to the top of the showthread listing. Since HF doesn't want a ton of LQP (Low Quality Posts) this is the best method of bumping your content. There is a small ?yte fee for each bump. Any OP can bump any of their threads on HF from the linked icon on the top of their first post.

If you haven't already read the first post of this thread we encourage you to do so.

Thanks,
Stanley

UPDATE: Access was removed after just 3 days. Initially, the seller told me that my existing chats on my own profile would still be visible once upgraded, which turned out not to be true.

The seller is providing access to a Claude Teams Pro account, not Claude Max 5x. He did say he would restore my access, but if you're getting kicked off the account every couple of days, I wouldn't consider this a reliable product.

I asked for a refund because I was initially misinformed about keeping access to my existing chats. The seller claimed the access issue only happens "occasionally," but given that mine was removed after only 3 days, I find that hard to believe.

Another major issue is that your chats are tied to the team account. If this method gets patched or the account disappears, you could lose access to all of those chats as well.

Definitely not worth it in my experience.

AVOID!!!

Access has been restored, but the buyer is being completely unreasonable. I wouldn't wish a customer like this on anyone. He knew the rules and the risks, but still chose to threaten me with a negative review.

- 1.First of all, you were not sold a 5x plan disguised as Team. Even the contract you created clearly states Team 6.25x. So this is a direct false accusation. I'll be filing a report about it.
- 2.How could you possibly lose access to your own chats? Are you serious? It's your account. We add a personal private seat to it, which no one else has access to. A new Team workspace simply appears in your interface, and nobody can disable or take away your personal chats. This is another clear indication that you have no idea what you're talking about.
- 3.The rules clearly state that the warranty covers the subscription only. We do not offer refunds. We guarantee that the subscription will work for the entire agreed period, and even if it gets cancelled, we will restore it. You read the rules, agreed to them, understood all the risks, and made the purchase. But as soon as an issue occurred, you started threatening me with a negative review. Afterwards, you deleted the chat from both sides, apparently to cover your tracks

Once again, your access has been restored. But honestly, I've never encountered such an unreasonable customer in my life. I've already submitted reports for defamation and violations of the forum rules

Your reply doesn't change the facts.

You claim my access has been restored. It hasn't. I still have no access.

I never said my personal chats were deleted. The problem is that when you get kicked off a Team plan and the seller has to invite you to a new one, you start from zero again — your chats from the previous Team workspace are not migrated. Mine lasted just 3 days.

So you're potentially stuck in a cycle of getting kicked off -> waiting for another invite -> starting with a fresh workspace -> losing access again.

Meanwhile, the thread is still advertising Claude Max 5x for $70, when what's actually being provided is a Claude Team seat.

At this point I've wasted $70 and essentially feel scammed — no working access, no refund, and not what I believed I was buying.

Instead of attacking me personally, explain why you're still advertising Max 5x while providing Team seats, and why you're claiming my access is restored when it isn't.

Buyers beware.

No, you can check his contract. He even created it himself

So you're saying this states that it's a Claude Team Premium seat?

(Jul 29, 2026 01:09 AM)Collapse Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#)

Giving someone a Team seat isn't inherently wrong, but you'd want to warn your user about the risks of the account getting disabled or losing Team access resulting in a loss of access to conversations on the web app. Claude Code CLI saves the conversations on your PC, so resuming them wouldn't have been an issue as long as you got him back on. Whether or not that's the case is up to how the dispute resolves.

You didn't set any T&C and there aren't any on your thread or contract that I can see. Personally, if I were selling Premium team seats I'd be more upfront about it because they're worth more (as long as the 50% usage increase until the 31st applies to them)

Edit: "Gift" is also very specific nomenclature that, even if not intentionally, references <https://support.claude.com/en/articles/12938627-how-to-gift-a-claude-subscription>

You did get the guy to write in x6.25 Team so we'll see how it goes.

The point is that the available products are constantly changing. The Telegram group clearly stated what was currently in stock, what was covered by the warranty, and all the relevant terms and conditions.

All of that was also explained to him in our conversation. He agreed to everything and created the contract himself. I didn't expect him to act this way, nor did I think the contract needed to be written almost like a formal legal agreement.

The product was fully provided, a warranty case occurred exactly as described in the terms, and his access was restored. Yet he claims the opposite, just as he has lied about everything else.

The first thing he did after his attempt to pressure me with a negative review failed was delete our conversation for both sides

OtterLover - August 23, 2026, 10:55 pm

Does gift shipping not get recalled? Is there a guarantee for that?

The Pact - August 24, 2026, 2:19 pm

You deleted your post claiming he broke forum rules. I marked your complaint as read rather than give him a warning because he did have a contract with you, and he made an actual dispute thread so I'm not sure what exactly you were alleging.

All that being said it's not that I'm taking sides on this at this stage. I'm just saying that there is a contract and dispute thread so it's not the more common scenario of obviously illegitimate sales trashing.

Biting my tongue about Claude right now.

Does it really matter if hes right?

Getting kicked out after 3 days means the seller is using a shit quality method and refusing to refund. Typical scumbag tactics, dealt with it myself over the years. :)

"Shit quality method"... I can see you're incredibly knowledgeable about this, truly an expert with a job at Claude. The person gets an official plan, not some third-party API or stolen account, for $55 less than the official price. The only issue is that the subscription can get revoked because the company has started being extremely strict about these methods, which is exactly why there are far fewer gifts 5x/20x on the market now. And in our case, that's completely covered by the warranty. Reading comments from "experts" like this, the only thing I feel like doing is facepalming

It's even more ridiculous to claim that he's right. Right about what exactly? He was explicitly told that there are no refunds after purchase. He agreed to that and then bought it anyway, only to ask for a refund afterward? What kind of brain damage does it take to do that?
