Thread: Doxing is nowadays, just cringy

It's always those 14 year old kids who run Wireshark, stink because their mom forgot to buy soap, and butt sweaty reading your IP address and acting like they are Mr. Robot. To be honest, doxing someone in my opinion (real ones, not the fake, IP ones.) Is a waste of time. I know this is a hacker forum, but bro, for the fake, edgy doxers, stop using TruePeopleSearch. At least know how to pull an IP.

your right it's usually the gamers that swat others for fun or DDoS just to feel cool,

But even if you think it's cringe it's still a valid way for completing Fullz or Private investigations using reconnaissance tools

I think you're conflating DDoS and doxing. Wireshark doesn't really have anything to do with doxing besides using an IP for DB dumps or geolocation for more information from a P2P game/app.

Tbf both cringe if you do it for fun, and not with a grander scheme.

I'm surprised people even go to such lengths anymore. I feel like most games aren't P2P these days. Nothing worth playing at least.
