

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: The exit scam of Antistock, Billgang, Sellpass, Forebit and Hoodpay

CL1B - August 7, 2026, 2:37 am

They told their vendors and clients that they were going to migrate to a new version of their platform "v2" but apparently this is the scam.

When they "migrated" their wallets got drained completely. Vendors are now in the depths of it while an estimated 1 million USD has already been drained.

Quickly after, they faked that they have been seized by the FBI. But this is not true, it's part of their exit scam.

This is why the finer details matter, just 2 weeks ago a Sellix bootleg popped up and I got him banned from multiple platforms but whilst doing so they did still manage to appeal to some of you. All of these "easy" crypto ecommerce solutions should never be trusted when they are not registered and or don't have any license.

You MUST not forget that these are made by mostly teenagers, incels or those who are NOT qualified at all. There's plenty of real solutions with REAL backbones in the market and it should be as easy as 123 to find them.

? loading encrypted image...

? loading encrypted image...

? loading encrypted image...

? loading encrypted image...