When they learn that their childhood orphanage is about to be torn down, brothers Jake and Elwood Blues set out to save it by reuniting their old R & B band for a fundraising performance.

It's a musical quite like no other, there is no equal.
You can joke about how Moana and Frozen have some that are catchy.

Tell me with a straight face you couldn't enjoy watching this lovely movie.

They're on a mission from God to put the band back together.

Hey HF, what about a movie night? I'll supply a RTSP stream of the video, a VoIP server for comms, you bring the popcorn? Would there be any interest in a community forum of that? You'd not need to source copies, I'll handle that flak, throw it through some host and we just watch movies and shit talk either text or voice.

Damn man, my grandfather used to listen to this all the time. I haven't heard it since he died. This post made me cry <3.

It's a fantastic movie considering it's just SNL sketches
