Honestly, both look AI Generated and looks like slop. But if you had to pick one, I'd go for the top one.

Yes, I did use AI, but the client specifically asked me to create an art piece; if I had done it without AI, the price would have been much higher.

Hi, I was given the text in exactly this order, and "MON" is the name of the service.

bubblebutt - August 14, 2026, 10:07 am lol weird. Well, you do aim to please the customer.

I just wouldn't even include MON as its cut off anyways and Image #2 sentence structure looks like A.I or a toddler learning the English language for the first time.

The person has an audience in Russia and gave me the text to insert, even though I know there's a mistake in it.
