Thread: I'm assembling a team to work with Crypto Drainer.

Workkers - August 10, 2026, 5:39 am

Hello everyone, I've been working with crypto drainers for a long time, primarily in the crypto exchange space.

I'm looking for people who also want to try their hand at this field.

If you have experience communicating with leads or cryptocurrency exchange experience (which is great), then my door is always open to you.

For those who aren't quite sure what I'm talking about, the idea is to lead a lead to a target action, namely, connecting their wallet to our crypto contract. In common parlance, this means connecting to a drainer, after which we withdraw all their assets.

Anyone with such leads, a database of people who own cryptocurrency, people with huge balances in USDT, or people who want to buy something with USDT, that would be great.

Anyone interested, please contact me on Telegram for more detailed discussions and collaboration.
