Thread: Have you ever met a celebrity? And if so, tell me; what was it like?

Anonymous OP - August 10, 2026, 2:03 pm

Celebrities are influencers of impurity and lies. They are the main people that keep us trapped in unawareness, stupidity, sin, and truths that are actually-evil.

Celebrities are of the Devil, and even in the US, are controlled by other governments/blackmailed, even to rape and then kill their "prey". They even f*ck babies.

Their heart and emotion science shows they are "High" in evil, that only comes from being actually-evil, to actual-innocent people. They ARE the actual-Devil.

Basically, all of them.

Celebrities have everyone fooled; and because the people are suffocated by unawareness, and powered by sexual love, that entirely, if loved, accepted, agreed, as you (who is already a demon by being impure, or a Devil) -- allows the actual-Devil to live in you AS you, and prevents you from perceiving truth, purity, and any Spiritual understanding.

They give us demons, that we "love" and glorify, and defend; creating OUR truth AS the Devil.

I believe the top governments of this world are using celebrities worldwide to influence impurity so they can bomb us, righteously, or "corona cancer" us/wipe us out.

The police are happy; because they think they can kill any impure person and get away with it with their "pure heart".

This is the world in 2026. Oh, and if you need help about perceiving celebrities/separating the Devil from your intelligence/truth/heart; remember that all celebrities are TRANNY FANNY LICKERS! HALLELUJAH!

My question is; have you ever met a celebrity? And tell me in detail; did you feel "damaged" after seeing/meeting them? As if something went missing from you?

In truth; they are all sex workers, even with children, yet; have killed innocent people, and top up their "Height/Confidence/Pride" THROUGH evil; all the time.

You don't, as a Devil/demon/IMPURE person; get "High" on hurting yourself/a Devil/an evil person... you get "High" /confident/proud of evil as an impure/demon/Devil person; by hurting INNOCENT LIFE. This is basic truth that should be in all peoples awareness, from children.

I hope you are more aware now if you weren't already. Tell me your feelings on the influencers of this world, and how that shapes YOUR truth? Or has?

I was lucky enough to bump into Rowan Atkinson and Lee Evans at the same time inside a small pub in the Cotswolds. They were some of the friendliest people I've ever met, and it was a very good day drinking with them.

I've met and know many local celebs and it's no different than the average person I meet here. On a philosophical level they do tend to align more often with my stances than non celebs, but I think that's a tax bracket thing in general.

International celebs not so much.

Yes; they appear the friendliest, cutest, loveliest, kindest, most moral/pure people of the world. ONLY to the impure/unaware/unintelligent. That is truth, friend. And Mr Been is actually of-the-Devil, though; we can choose to LOVE him simply by accepting him. He has tortured INNOCENT people; to remain "High" and "Confident". He is supposed to give the feel of the Royal family/UK humour and "morals" in their love for impurity/stupidity/evil. Would you still think they were the friendliest people in the world if you actually saw their truth?/heart science/emotions/mind?

You would be a very weird, nasty person if so.

Hey, that was my line!

It is interesting to me how people genuinely idolize famous people. I mean, OP reads like AI and this is likely a shitpost anyway, but celebs are still just humans living their own experience. I only put an emphasis on people that already exist in my life. Material status only matters in context -- if I'm a millionaire and you just got laid off, I'm not going to invite you places AND expect you to pay.

This thread is such a bait and switch.

But answering the thread title more than the first post. I did get to meet Margaret Atwood and I know people won't believe me but I did get to talk with her for three hours though she said we would not keep in touch but I did have fun with her for three hours. She was worried the whole time that I was going to go to the media about it which would never have even occurred to me and she even asked me to swear on my then 18month old's life that I wouldn't go to the media about it and then even after that she still didn't stop worrying about it.

I've read enough about her life that if I wanted to make something up that she said I could, but she did not talk about herself at all because of the "you might go to the media" fear, so the whole thing was just her assuaging curiosity about a person and me answering all her questions and I actually enjoyed it a lot regardless.

She was testing me to see if I was lying about some things and she was curious about my knowledge of the novels of hers I'd said I'd read which she quizzed me on and she challenged me that if she was a favourite author of mine that I'd be able to quote from her novels and I said "Yes I can." And I did and she told me later she felt bad about how mean she'd been with me to start. Even back then she really did not give a fuck about her book signings because she was playing pranks on people that I thought were ridiculous like getting them to talk and then taking notes to see if they would think she was stealing their stories. Honestly I thought that was ridiculous but she thought it was funny.

She quizzed me on what famous art I knew, my knowledge of classical literature from Ancient Greece and Rome as well as English Literature and my knowledge about what countries were run by dictators which was the one topic where I was embarrassed about my limited knowledge of at age 30, but apparently I did better than other people she had asked.

And she asked me if I thought she was impressed because I knew more than other people she'd asked and I said "No," and she said "Why wouldn't I be impressed if you know more than other people I asked? And I said because the other people were idiots and she said "You're very blunt, [My name]"

How did he look like? Did he look exactly like his avatar with the beard? And did he say anything, if so, what was it?

I have met a few in my life. Liam Gallagher to be one, was alright, had a beer with him, didn't ask for any stupid photos or anything because at the end of the day he's like you and me.

Maybe he is, he appears a normal bloke... maybe he is just like you. Indeed; surely there are some true-people that are influencers, only, limited from speaking the truth desperately needed (awareness of God/actual-Truth) -- Indeed; to be intelligent, we perceive truth. To be innocent, we be intelligent. We don't purposefully deceive ourselves, or delude ourselves, or love ourselves, for loving the actual-Devil. Amen?

How we accept/agree, and respond/REJECT in our perception, IN our heart; shapes our actual-truth. We look to the only replacement, as human beings, for God, and we find God, whom is "All-Pure" -- in these "Perfect" celebrities; we deem them the pure ones, the ones of God, the blessed ones.

You would be extremely shocked, and sickened, by most, if you knew their truth/sin/hearts, surely? If not; maybe you fail to perceive actual-Truth/God, and fail to believe that actual-intelligence itself is actually-Good, and from God, The Creator. Hallelujah!

If you know you're loving the actual-Devil, stop, repent (if needed), and reject the Devil from the truth of your intelligence, and the love/truth in your heart.

I arranged to catch up with him when in Vegas once upon a time.

We went to a cigar bar and I believe a whisky place on the strip if drunk memory serves

Ah yes. God is a celebrity..

If there was a god there would be no famine, war, hunger. But it is whatever you speak of

Uh.. I met the trailer park boys they were pretty cool

Wheezy Gang - August 12, 2026, 8:45 pm

Had to pleasure of bartending a private event in which I met the actors who played Randy and Mr. Lahey in Trailer Park Boys. They were doing a little comedy show thing. They were the sweetest nicest chilliest dudes you could ever imagine. They were telling me that a lot of times when people meet them they hope that they stay in character and be like "Check it out Mr. Lahey these fans want a pic with us" And Mr. Lahey responds something slurred and drunk.

It was kinda ironic to be pouring Mr. Lahey drinks at a bar

Edit:

That's hilarious that the post above me mentions they met trailer park boys. Didn't see that until I made my post LOL
