

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: The tools I use in my investigations.

NoF4ce - August 11, 2026, 7:01 am most of the time I searched by telegram, but I have already written an article about it and now I will tell you about the tool that I use most often. <https://oathnet.org> / there is a paid and free tariff, sometimes you can even find out the password of your object. There is a search for discord, iPad, tiktok, roblox, steam, Minecraft, and much more. You can visit the site yourself and see next, I use my old favorite Sherlock tool to search by nickname, sometimes it really helps. I also use the Polish face search tool, but it always finds social networks. Unfortunately, to go to the page where the photo was left, you need to buy a subscription

. Now let's go deeper into geoint. In it, I use google earth exclusively and you I recommend it because there is good satellite quality and there is 3D animation of objects so you can more easily understand whether this is the object you are looking for or not

. I use the shademap shadowcalculator to search for shadows

.

There are also two good tools, but I can't say much about them. Often, to find an object, I use the Russian search engine Yandex or Google Images. In the article, I've listed the basic tools for finding a person.?